This progressive bonds chat have grown worse, they talk progress, write it, and I believe they dream it. Senator from Mississippi will be the tively few, with far superior wisdom orator.

tively few, with far superior wisdom judgment and power for which we are all proud, we praise them, we creek monuments to their memory, we write historys of them, their wisdom and judgment gives them superior money making power, are they not satisfied with these blessings? I can say I believe that many of them are from such men we try to select as our rulers, and blessed are the people that have such men to rule over them. Sad as it is I must say that many of those that stand at the head of our city and county government differ from the ones just men-tioned in at least one very important point, they seem to feel that they have scalds—the pain from sores of all kinds the doors of its branch store next Sat- a heavenly right to use their superior ful homes.
